

CAROLINE SMITH

Author, Editor & Author Coach

ABOUT ME

Caroline Smith is an Atlanta native. She has an MFA in creative writing from Queens University in Charlotte, NC, and a BA in English Literature from Pacific Lutheran University. While at PLU, she fell in love with editing and storytelling. She has edited over 500 manuscripts, and in collaboration with one of her authors, won an IBPA Gold Ben Franklin Award for excellence in editorial and design. She is currently the COO of Atlanta-based Tandem Light Press and also enjoys working with clients on an individual basis.

When she's not writing or editing, she enjoys reading romance novels and dark fantasy, creating workshops on meditation and natural wellness, studying for yoga teacher training, and dreaming about living in Scotland. She lives on a small farm in North Georgia with her three wild and wonderful children and a menagerie of animals.

In Media

Caroline has a podcast for writers called "Inspiration to Publication" where she walks writers through the steps of writing and various forms of publishing.

She has been a repeat guest on Dr. Pamela Larde's radio program, "The Live Exchange," a guest speaker at Write the Vision Writers Conference, and interviewed on several webinars and podcasts.

BOOKS

New Release

A grieving PI meets a sick woman he feels compelled to help. A veteran returns from war unsure of his place in the world. A mysterious pack of dogs show up to protect a woman recovering from an abusive relationship. A woman struggles with isolation and a misbehaving sewing machine during a pandemic.

Caroline Smith's stories weave myth and realism into a modern Southern Gothic world, reimagined. They are filled with the tragedy and struggle of what makes us human, always with unexpected twists and turns.

Gripping and darkly funny, these are stories of men and women who know what it means to suffer and remind us of our shared humanity through that experience. Exploring mythos and morality through a contemporary lens, these characters take us on a suspenseful journey wondering just what will happen next with the turn of each page.
